SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore. Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Got Worse Under Four Doctors. Cured by Cuticura.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My both had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to look at. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily work I was laughed at. I had to wear a pair of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with large red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did try them, and am glad I have done so. Glad to say I am a well man, and in the best of health since. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I refer to my portrait.

Crowds at the Fair.

PRINCESS EULALIA FOND OF THE SIGHTS ON THE MIDWAY PLAISANCE—SCOTTISH CLANSMEN WELCOMED WITH THE MUSIC OF BAGPIPES.

Chicago, June 12.—A glorious summer sky and moderately warm temperature ushered in the seventh week of the Columbian Fair this morning. The Princess Eulalie, of Spain, and ex-President Benjamin Harrison were among the visitors to-day. The Princess lunched at White Horse Inn, at the south end of Jackson Park, alongside the Dutch windmill and the Cliff dwellers, in what is known as "The Back Yard of the Fair," to which she has taken quite a fancy.

Ex-President Harrison was the guest of President Palmer.

The number of paid admissions to-day was 75,972.

Sir Fitzroy Donald MacLean, Bart., hereditary chief of the MacLean clan, arrived in Chicago to be present at a World's Fair gathering of the clan. He was accompanied by Archibald John MacLean, chieftain of the Pennycross, who has come with the Baronet from Scotland, and Donald MacLean and George H. MacLean, of New York city. At the depot a big delegation of local and outside members of the clan were in waiting for their chief, and with them were three pipers of the Forty-eighth Highlanders from Toronto, who struck up a wild melody as the long string of cars pulled into the depot. Sir Fitzroy was warmly received by the big crowd of Scottish Americans and at once driven to the Auditorium, where a large suite of rooms was in readiness for his use and that of the Chieftain of Pennycross. Besides many Chicago MacLeans, there were others from surrounding places, such as Rockford, Ills., Janesville, Wis., and still others from as far away as San Francisco, California, San Antonio, Texas, and Toronto, Can. This afternoon the distinguished visitors went to the World's Fair. To-morrow a reception will be given them at the Auditorium. Wednesday a coaching party will be the festivity, and on Thursday night a big banquet will be held by the clan and the following night there will be a festival of Scotch song at Central Music Hall.

A receiver was appointed this morning for the Harvey World's Fair Hotel and the Harvey Home Improvement Company. The assets of the Home Improvement Company are scheduled at $141,500 and the liabilities at $90,000, and the assets of the Hotel Company at $85,000, with $90,000 liabilities.

A remarkable collection of ancient Greek portraits was opened for public view to-day in the central hall of the old Vienna village, in the Midway Plaisance. Some of these pictures are two thousand years old and were only recently discovered in Egypt, where, since the third century B. C., the higher ranks of the population had adopted Greek culture.

All of the paintings, it is said, were taken from mummies or coffins, it having been the custom of Egyptians to there represent the countenance of the deceased. Most of them show great merit, while some of the others are of the most amateurish kind.

William Mayor, the contractor who had the contract for building the Spectatorium, filed an intervening petition today in the Circuit Court in the suit of Steele Mackay against the Columbian Celebration Company. Mayor claims that the company owes him $120,000, and he asks to have all the stockholders decreed to be partners and liable for all of the debts against the company. Mayor charges fraud and corrupt management against the incorporators of the company, Steele Mackaye, Gen. Ben. Butterworth, Powell Crosley, Sidney C. White, Jr., and Howard O. Edmonds.

The Navy At Work.

Now that the great naval display in American waters are over and Uncle Sam has shown off his dogs of marine war to the naval officials of other powers, it is timely to think of sending our war ships about their business. In the past it has been the custom to have our ships cruising up and down the coast during the summer season, flitting from one seaport to another and taking in the galeties of each on the way. This is all very nice for the officers, and they doubtless do not object to Fortress Monroe, Narragansett, Newport or even Bar Harbor as places in which to display the official sailor gallantry. But while this is going on and the new navy is covering itself with garlands won at dances and receptions, American interests abroad are suffering.

The United States has very few, if any, of its powerful vessels abroad looking after the rights of our citizens who are away in foreign lands or the commercial interests which are the sinews of the State.

The Behring Sea would be a good place for a couple of vessels, Chinese waters might hold one, Samoa and the Sandwich Islands could probably supply work for another, and the coast of Europe would make cruising ground for another. The foreign powers do this thing in no small degree, and if Europe can afford to keep her vessels from grounding home shores, there's no reason why the United States cannot do the same thing. It is said that an English, French or German cruiser insures respect to the flags of those countries abroad. Why should not the Stars and Stripes be respected in a like manner with the presence of a government vessel near by to show that such a nation as ours has arisen from its marine lethargy and means nothing but business?—Phila. Evening Herald.

THOMAS D. NASH, of McKean county, has been tendered, and will probably accept, the position of assistant chief clerk in the state department, to succeed Joseph D. Boggs, of Philadelphia, who retires to-morrow to accept the position of superintendent of the city delivery in the postoffice in that city. Mr. Nash was a clerk in the department of internal affairs during the administration of Secretary Africa.

CITIZENS of Bangor, Maine, tarred and feathered a fellow who had been beating his wife as a regular amusement. One feature of the affair is a little difficult to explain. There does not seem to be any par icular reason why the indignant citizens should have worn masks.

Captured by Indians.

ST. PAUL, June 14.—A special train over the Northern Pacific railroad left last evening with Company D, Third infantry, United States regulars, and will hasten with all possible speed to Brainered, Minn., where the troops will debark and march until this evening, when it is expected they will arrive at Leech Lake reservation, where trouble of such serious nature exists that soldiers are needed. Dispatches from that region are very meagre, but very urgent, the last of them reading: "Dr. Walker is a prisoner at Leech Lake and must have aid at once. Send officers and troops at once."

Information received from Park Rapids, Grand Rapids and Deep River, points along the edge of the Leech Lake reservation, is all of the same general purport, but meagre as to details. Dr. James H. Walker, the resident physician at Leech Lake, and a companion went out hunting on Monday morning, and the former by accident, in shooting at a fawn, shot and so seriously wounded a popular young Indian that he died in a few hours.

This so angered the Indians on the reserve, a little over 400 in number, that they gave the hunters chase and captured Dr. Walker. They hurried him into the woods, several miles away, and what has been done with him can only be conjectured. The general belief is that he has been scalped and cut to pieces by the Chippewas, who are very ugly when drinking. There is fear also that settlers along the reserve will suffer, as the Chippewas have three times in the last half dozen years driven off the whites. There is still hope, however, that the Indians are holding Dr. Walker in the hope of securing a bribe from the government.

Valuable Find of a Diver.

A very important archelogical find was made in November last, according to the Philadelphia Ledger, in the harbor of Salonicbe by a diver in search of sponges. When the diver came up from the bottom of the sea he displayed a handful, not of sponges, but of silver coins of a very antique date. He turned over the coins to the proprietor of the boat, who ordered him back to find some more coins. He went down to the bottom of the sea several times in succession. Finally he found at the depth of about one hundred feet an iron box, which contained nearly eighteen pounds of silver coin. The proprietor of the boat made the seamen in his employ promise to be silent. He made them some presents in money, and the find remained a secret for nearly three months. Recently one of the seamen, having quarreled with his master, betrayed the secret to the Greek government, and the latter compelled him to produce the coins. They date back to the days of ancient Macedonia, and are in an excellent state of preservation, showing the bust of Alexander the Great, holding in one hand the scepter and in the other a bird, seemingly a falcon. The coins have been turned over to the museum at Athens.

At Chickamauga.

The terrific nature of the great struggle at Chickamauga may be illustrated by the record of the Twenty-first Ohio. In the course of the battle that regiment fired 43,550 rounds of fixed ammunition, and fought till its last shot was expended. It suffered a loss of one officer and fifty men killed, three officers and ninety-eight men wounded, and twelve officers and 104 men captured; yet even such magnificent bravery as its men exhibited could not suffice to give victory to the Union arms.

The total number of troops engaged on either side in the battle has never been satisfactorily determined. The total strength of the army of Rosecrans was from 55,000 to 65,000 effective men, and quite likely was not far from the first-named figure. Bragg's force has been variously estimated as having been from less than 50,000 to fully 70,000. The probabilities are that the two armies in number were very evenly matched.

The losses of Rosecrans in killed, wounded and missing, were over 16,000 men. The losses of Bragg seem to have been at least as heavy, for there was terrific slaughter during his desperate attempts to drive Thomas from Horseshoe Ridge. Were we to consider as accurate the Federal estimate of the Confederate loss and the Confederate estimate of the Federal loss, the figures would be very greatly increased.—Blue and Gray.

WAR BETWEEN COLORADO CATTLE MEN AND SHEEP MEN IMMINENT.—Grand Junction, Col., June, 6.—The situation in Plateau Valley is daily becoming more dangerous. The sheep men and the cattle men are both sleeping on their arms, and an open outbreak would surprise nobody at any time. Thursday morning the residence of J. F. Brink was set on fire and totally destroyed, the occupants narrowly escaping with their lives. Sunday morning the stables of W. H. Bannister were set on fire and destroyed with all their contents, including live stock. Both of these fires are charged by the cattle men to the credit of the sheep men, and it will be a wonder if the strained condition of affairs does not lead to bloodshed before many days. The cattle men are the settlers of the valley, and swear they will not allow sheep men, who came in this spring, to run them out.

A BIG CANAL.—A bill for the construction of a canal from the Gironde to the Mediterranean is under consideration in the French Chamber of Deputies. The proposed canal will be about 328 miles long and 143 feet wide, except at points where vessels can pass each other, where its width will be over 200 feet. The depth will be twenty-seven and one-half feet, and there will be twenty-two double locks. A concession of ninety-nine years is asked by a company prepared to carry out the scheme, and a state guarantee of 2 per cent. interest. The military advantage would be to afford a safe passage to French ships in the time of war between the Atlantic and the Mediterranean.

PLENTY OF IVORY.—The somewhat prevalent idea that the supply of ivory is narrowly limited and that it is soon to be a scarce article is declared by a correspondent in London Field to be entirely incorrect. The writer says that in central Africa the chiefs have so many tusks that they do not know what to do with them, and that in some instances the kings surround their houses with stockades of ivory. In return for the gift of a uniform coat, a cocked hat and a sword, a state officer recently received from a native potentate one hundred and fifty tusks.

His Wedding Present.

Barker came down to breakfast to find the usual pile of letters lying beside his plate. Long letters from friends, short notes from slight acquaintances, tradesmen's bills and invitations mixed together indiscriminately. He did not mind the bills, though they reached him with remarkable frequency. He had plenty of money with which to pay them at any time, but somehow he hated to do it, though the payment would not have deprived him of a single luxury for even a day. He was a thorn in the side of the people with whom he dealt, for they had to wait indefinitely for their dues. Yet they did not like to proceed to extreme measures if they could avoid it, for his custom was extensive enough to be well worth keeping, and they were sure of being paid eventually. And they knew that Barker's check was as good as greenbacks—when they could get it.

Barker picked up the last letter. He knew, from the shape and from the quality of the paper, that it was an invitation. "Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith request the pleasure, etc., etc." Mamie Smith's wedding. Barker had known Mamie Smith since he was a boy and the prospective bridegroom was a club acquaintance of some years standing. That meant an unusually handsome present. Silver, of course; less trouble to choose. He would go to Hammett, the silversmith, that very morning, before he had time to forget about it and give him some general directions. Hammett was a man of originality and could be trusted to get up something new and noticeable. The originality of Barker's wedding presents was notorious, but he never betrayed the secret of them, which consisted in telling Hammett who and what the present was for, and leaving everything to him. As he had begun this course at a time when Hammett had first set up a little shop on a side street years before, Barker's friends knew nothing of the arrangement. Now Hammett, the silversmith, had a larger place, and was becoming better known to the fashionable world; but he never forgot that Barker had given him his first real chance to exercise his taste and skill, and he could be relied on to give Barker his best work and thought.

Barker seldom wasted time on the clerks at Hammett's; he usually walked through the store to the little office at the back, from which Hammett seldom issued, except to attend to some specially honored customer. Hammett was busy when he entered, and Barker sat down to wait until the other had finished the entries he was making.

"Good morning, Mr. Barker; we haven't seen you for some time," said the dealer, as he closed the book.

"It's partly your own fault, Hammett," said Barker. "You have fitted me out so completely that there is hardly anything left to buy for myself, and it has been rather an off season for myself, and it has been rather off season for weddings."

"So it has, so it has," smiled Hammett. "I've noticed that myself, even more than you have, probably. But I suppose something has turned up at last, since I see you here?"

"Yes, here it is," tossing him the Smith invitation. "I want something for that; particularly fine and original, for I'm an old friend of the family. Something in silver, of course; something that won't be duplicated by all the idiots in town. I leave the rest to you, as usual."

"Very well, sir," replied the jeweler, making a few rapid notes. "Any limit as to cost?"

"Anything in reason," responded Barker, carelessly. "You know I'm not a millionaire and you know about how far I would be willing to go."

"Oh, yes; I think I know about the style of thing you want. It is rather short notice, but we will have it done in plenty of time."

"That's all, then, for the present," said Barker, rising.

"Oh, just a moment, Mr. Barker," exclaimed the silversmith, hastily. "I am rather cramped just at present; could you make it convenient to send me a check on account of your bill some time soon? I hate to have to ask you," he went on apologetically, "but during the last few months I have had an unusually large number of bills out, and they have left me very skort."

"That's all right, Hammett, of course," returned Barker, pleasantly. "How much do I owe you?" Hammett named the amount.

"So much?" queried Barker. "I had fancied it was less, but I suppose a man always underestimates such things. Well, I'll send you a check in a few days; if I forget it just remind me again."

"Thank you, Mr. Barker; it will be a very great convenience to me. You would be surprised to learn how much I have out in that way, and what straits I have been put to sometimes of late even for the means to pay my workmen."

"It's too bad; people ought to pay up more promptly. You should come down on them if they don't."

"Do you think so?" smiled the silversmith. "But, you see, they would be very likely to be angry and withdraw their custom."

"No man of sense would do that," asserted Barker. "You have a right to the money, and no honest man should feel insulted at being asked civilly to pay his just debts."

"Well, some day I'll come down on you," laughed Hammett, "and we will see how you relish your own prescription."

"I'm not afraid of that," smiled Barker, in return. "But if you do, I'll promise to take the medicine like a man."

"Well, then, good morning. I may expect a check soon, then, you say?"

"Yes, as soon as I can remember it."

"Thank you; I will count on you. And you shall have a masterpiece for this wedding."

Hammett was as good as his word. The silver piece that he produced was a masterpiece in both design and execution; his taste was always exquisite, and as he looked at the completed work his heart swelled with pride. Only one thing alloyed his pleasure. Barker had forgotten to send the promised check, though the silversmith had reminded him of the matter. And the more Hammett thought over the trouble he had taken for Barker, the more hurt he felt, until finally the hurt changed to resentment, to anger, and then to desperation. He had spoken the truth when he told Barker he was hard pressed, otherwise he would not have mentioned the matter at all. And he knew exactly why Barker had not sent the check; he had not dealt with him all these years without learning Barker's little business peculiarities.

"I have accommodated him often enough to be entitled to some consideration," he said to himself. "He knows how I am situated and it would be a good plan to give him a dose of his own medicine. By jove, I'll do it, and do it in a way he will remember, too."

Hammett's way is all that makes the story worth telling.

Various matters prevented Barker from calling at the Smith house until the very day before the wedding. People ought to have more consideration than to call at such a time; but Barker was sufficiently intimate at the Smiths' to know that he would not be in the way, or, if he should be, that he would be dismissed politely.

Miss Mamie, though in the midst of enthralling preparations, was delighted to see him. "Come upstairs," she said, "and see all my presents. I haven't pretended to count them, but there are an astonishing number, and they are just lovely. My feelings run away with me when I think of all those beautiful things."

Barker went and duly admired the display, keeping an eye open for his own, which he not unreasonably expected to see in the place of honor. It was nowhere to be found.

"Hasn't Hammett sent mine yet?" he asked, at length. "He promised faithfully to have it done in plenty of time, and he has never disappointed me yet."

"Oh, yes," answered the girl. "It came several days ago, and was just magnificent. I don't know how to thank you enough for it. It was the very prettiest thing of the whole lot. But," with a merry laugh, "a very funny thing happened in connection with it. Yesterday the man who brought it called again and asked to be allowed to take it back to the store. He said that it wasn't paid for yet, and that Mr. Hammett hadn't intended to let it go out of his hands until it was paid for. It had been sent up by mistake, the man said. Of course we knew there had been some mistake, but we gave it to the man, and no doubt it is still there at Hammett's, waiting until your bill is settled," with another laug

The Democratic Nominees.

That the Democratic ticket is a good and a strong one is conceded by all parties, and therefore gives general satisfaction.

CHARLES S. DUNCAN, Esq., has already had one term as District Attorney and his services on behalf of the Commonwealth have proven him a competent and efficient officer. His experience renders him peculiarly fitted for a second term.

MR. JAMES A. CRATIN has the qualifications for an efficient and acceptable Sheriff, has solid business habits and will readily adapt himself to the always responsible and often delicate duties of the position.

MR. EDW. M. BENDER will make an excellent Clerk of the Courts. His qualifications as an ex-teacher and experience as a business man render him well fitted for a post of the kind, the requirements of which are steadily widening.

MR. J. FRANK CARBAUGH appeals particularly to the people inasmuch as he has been a severe sufferer for the last six months from rheumatism. He will be found admirably fitted for the place assigned him and will make a conscientious officer.

MR. JOHN A. MENCHEY will exercise safe guardianship over the county funds and will conduct his office with promptness, and give satisfaction to all who may have business relations with it.

MESSRS. WM. A. SELL and HENRY J. HEMLER are two of the best and most intelligent farmers in the county, with strong business attainments and unquestioned integrity. These gentlemen will bring to the Commissioners' office, one in which our people are most directly interested, conservatism and ability.

MR. JOHN H. MUSSER is an honest and industrious gentleman who can be implicitly trusted in the office of Director of the Poor. He will attend to every duty conscientiously and to the best interests of this important institution.

MESSRS. WM. A. TAUGHINBAUGH and P. A. T. BOWERS are expert accountants, thoroughly honest and fully competent to meet their duty.

Such is the Democratic ticket. All composing it are favorably known in their respective sections, if not in the whole county. All are good citizens and appeal to every voter for support.

J. L. BUTT, Esq., will give the County Committee Chairmanship the attention which its importance demands.

GOV. PATTISON'S THANKS.—In a letter written to a member of the Bar of this county, Governor Pattison acknowledged the receipt of a certified copy of the resolutions passed by the recent Democratic County Convention, and returns his thanks to him and to the Democracy of Adams county for their cordial expressions, which were warmly appreciated.

THE coroner's jury investigating the Ford's Theatre disaster brought in a verdict, yesterday, holding Col. S. C. Ainsworth, Contractor Dant, Superintendent Covert and Engineer Sasse responsible for the deaths of the victims by reason of criminal negligence on their part.

THE Democratic executive committee will meet in Philadelphia, June 26, to fix the time and place for the meeting of the State Democratic convention.

A WISE design underlies the act of assembly, recently signed by the Governor requiring the commissioners of the several counties of the state to file and preserve a copy of the newspapers printed in their respective counties. The purpose is to thus keep a complete record of the events transpiring within the county. As the years roll by such files will become of great value, both in historic interest and in settling disputes in judicial proceedings.

WITH two such eminent Republicans as McKinley and Foster both bankrupt, the party will begin to wonder whether Protectionists who cannot protect themselves know enough to protect the country.

NOW, Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell, swing the axe. Be a record breaker, in the good work.

THE coinage of silver by the National government since 1878 aggregates $119,294,936, or more than fifty times as much as was coined during the previous period of eighty-one years.

CHOLERA ravages seem to have started in the eastern countries. Seventy deaths were reported at Mecca on Friday and the dreaded disease appears to have gained a foothold in France.

SHAREHOLDERS MUST PAY.—A Washington dispatch says Comptroller Eckels has adopted a new policy regarding assessments upon the shareholders of failed national banks. He proposes to collect what he believes will be necessary from shareholders as soon as he can make an estimate of the amount, without waiting for other assets to be disposed of. It is in pursuance of this policy that he has made an assessment of 100 per cent. upon the shareholders of the Commercial National bank of Nashville, which recently failed. This heavy assessment is due to the conviction that the bank has been robbed to a large extent and that the assets will yield little return. He does not consider it necessary to determine the liability of the shareholders with absolute precision, for he will be able to return to them any small balance that may remain when the affairs of the bank are finally closed by the receiver.

The object of the new policy is to recover from all shareholders alike, instead of giving an opportunity to the irresponsible and dishonest to dispose of their property and snap their fingers in the face of the receiver.

THE returns of the recent election in Germany leave the composition of the Reichstag in doubt, and show large Socialistic gains. Another vote will be taken next Saturday.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, June 16, 1893.

Editor of Compiler: President Cleveland is deeply interested in the efforts that are being made to ascertain if the carelessness of any person was responsible for the horrible tragedy in Ford's old theatre, which killed 21 and injured sixty-odd clerks in the Records Pensions office of the War Department, although he has wisely refrained from taking any action that might be considered as interfering with the properly-constituted authorities now engaged in that task. Great pressure is being brought to bear on him to suspend or remove Col. Ainsworth, the army officer who is at the head of that office, and upon whom a great many people are disposed to place the blame, but Mr. Cleveland's idea of fair play is such that it is not probable that he will take any action until there is more tangible evidence of Col. Ainsworth's guilt than public clamor for making him a scapegoat. If he be guilty surely that fact can hardly escape the coroner's jury now investigating and the army court of inquiry which will take the matter up at the close of the inquest.

The improvement in the financial situation has been very marked during the last few days, and Treasury officials and others who keep close watch on financial affairs believe that the turn has come in the flow of gold abroad and that the situation will continue to improve. It is certain that the gold in the Treasury is again increasing at a gratifying rate and that there is at present no demand for gold for shipment abroad. Secretary Morton expresses the opinion that from now on our cereals will take the place of the gold which we have been shipping to Europe, and the fact that the large amount of gold which the Rothschilds contracted to furnish Austria has all been delivered is also thought to have been a factor in causing a cessation in the European demand for gold.

The Government has lost in actual cash, according to Secretary Carlisle's figures, in carrying out the provisions of the Sherman silver law, nearly $11,000,000, representing the difference between the amount paid for the silver now stored in the Treasury vaults and its present selling price. If it really had to be sold at once the loss would probably be much greater because of the further depreciation in price that would follow placing such a large quantity of silver on the market.

Among the consular appointments made this week was that of Dennington R. Bedle, of New Jersey, to be Consul at Sheffield, England, in place of Benjamin Folsom, resigned. Mr. Folsom, who has held the position since his appointment early in the first Cleveland administration, is a cousin of Mrs. Cleveland's and as "Cousin Ben," he figured in all the Republican papers as proof that President Cleveland was not in earnest when he declared himself opposed to nepotism. Wonder that those same fellows will say now that Mr. Folsom has voluntarily resigned? The chances are that they will ignore it entirely and say nothing.

Secretary Carlisle has, in one respect, a long lead of all the other heads of departments. Since taking charge of the Treasury he has replaced more than 200 Republican officials, outside the classified service, with good Democrats.

Democratic Congressman, after a hard and stubborn fight, have succeeded in convincing Postmaster General Bissell that his rule against the removal of Republican fourth-class postmasters who have served four years or more, unless charges are filed against them, is a bad one, and it will be recalled and all Republicans who have been in office four years or more will be replaced by Democrats just as fast as they can be got at in Mr. Maxwell's office.

A letter received by Mr. Cleveland this week furnishes conclusive proof, if proof were needed, of the wisdom of the establishment in the Pension Bureau of a Board of Revision, the sole duty of which is to go over all the pensions that have been granted under the law of 1890 and determine whether they were granted in accordance with a proper construction of that law. The writer of this letter, Mr. J. M. Burnett, is an ex-employe of the office, who voluntarily resigned during the last administration because he could not conscientiously take part in carrying out Raum's methods. He tells the President of a large number of pensions illegally granted, and gives names, dates, and the numbers of the applications, so that his statements may be easily verified. He says that thousands of pensions have been illegally granted, and that they are not confined to cases in which the law was wrongfully construed, but include an enormous number granted in direct violation of law. Mr. Burnett concludes by expressing the belief that at least $50,000,000 a year can be saved by a thorough and rigid purging and revision of the pension rolls.

DEM.

New Laws.

Governor Pattison has approved the following bills:

Regulating the trial and confinement of children under 16 years.

Fixing the places where the assessors shall sit to perform their duties, under the Baker ballot law.

Increasing the salary of the Lieutenant Governor to $5,000; of the chief clerk and corporation clerk in the Auditor General's department to $3,000 each; of the chief clerk and the corporation clerk in the State Department to $2,200 and $1,600 respectively, and of the chief clerk to the Attorney General to $2,200; providing for county morgues; for the assessment of damages where streets and alleys are changed in grade or location; relating to the sale of real estate of decedents, and the act enabling taxpayers of rural districts to contract for making roads at their own expense.

The Governor vetoed the bill authorizing the Orphans' Court of any county, upon petition to appoint a commissioner to inquire into the advisability of founding a charge upon any lands by last will and testament, and upon his report, to decree the appointment of a trustee to hold, and invest the fund, and further authorizing the Court to make a decree discharging the land from the lien of the charge.

MCKINLEY.—The Ohio Republicans in renominating McKinley for Governor of Ohio have shown that the great popular verdict against their party last year has failed to teach them a lesson.

They select as their candidate the man whose work as a legislator brought his party to extraordinary disaster and they put him on a platform in which there is not a single new thought but which is simply a rehash of their old platform.

McKinley wants to go before the people on the old issues and we have no doubt, says the Chester Co. Dem., that the Democrats of Ohio will promptly accommodate him. He has learned nothing, he retracts nothing and he is proud of his stubbornness.

Last year the Republicans carried Ohio by the skin of their teeth. In fact the state was so close that they lost one of their Presidential electors. It was an awful surprise to them and it showed how Republicanism had lost its hold on the farmers in what was once its greatest stronghold in the West.

The fight this year means whether the Republican party shall have an existence in 1896. If McKinley should succeed in pulling through, the Republican party would probably survive for another Presidential campaign and McKinley himself would probably be its candidate. If he should be defeated the party would in all likelihood go to pieces and McKinleyism would suffer its death blow.

There will be no doubt whatever of the downfall of the high tariff and its permanent extinction if the Democrats should carry Ohio next November.

THE decision of the United States Circuit Court closing the World's Fair on Sunday is reversed. The government is declared to have no exclusive right or authority in the control of the World's Columbian Exposition. These are the two salient points of the decision rendered at last week by the United States Court of Appeals.

New Pension Order.

Judge Lochren, the commissioner of pensions, with the approval of Secretary Hoke Smith, has issued the following important order as to adjudicating and fixing rates of pension under the act of June 27, 1890:

1. A claim for pension under the second section of the act of June 27, 1890, can only be allowed upon proof of mental or physical disability of a permanent character, not the result of the claimant's own vicious habits, incapacitating him for the performance of manual labor in such degree as to render him unable to support himself.

2. No specific injury or disability can as such have a pensionable rating under that act, nor be considered otherwise than as it affects the capacity of the claimant to perform ordinary manual labor.

3. Proof that the disability is not the result of the claimant's own vicious habits is requisite; and therefore the causes and circumstances of the origin of the disability should be shown by the evidence furnished in support of the claim for pension, so far as can be done, and by persons other than the claimant.

4. To give the claimant a pension under this act the disability must be such as to incapacitate him for the performance of manual labor in such a degree as to render him unable to earn a support; yet the act recognizes differences in the degree of such pensionable disability, giving $12 per month in case of the greatest and $6 per month in case of the lowest degree of such pensionable disability rendering the claimant unable to to earn a support by manual labor. It also provides for interment. The proper ratings under this act, will, therefore, be made in accordance with such rules for rating as the medical referee shall prescribe, subject to the approval of the commissioner.

GERMANS AT THE FAIR.—Chicago, June 15.—This is German Day at the Fair, the date being fixed upon not only because it is the anniversary of Emperor William's coronation but because the Germans decided that this was as good a day as any upon which to do honor to Columbus.

While the electors of the Empire of Germany were to-day casting their ballots at polls for or against the Caprivi government and the army bill, the expatriated and visiting sons and daughters of the Fatherland in this and other States of the Union celebrated to-day from dawn until midnight.

The parade through the down-town portion of the city by the local and visiting German societies and orders this morning was 20,000 strong, and under the leadership of Chief Marshall Frank Wenter was divided into eight divisions, each of which was accompanied by magnificent floats depicting some event or character prominent in the history of the Fatherland and America.

E. G Hale, president of the celebration committee, introduced Harry Rubens, who made the address of welcome and extended the greetings of the German-Americans of Chicago to the representatives of the German empire. "Die Wacht am Rhine" was sung by the World's Fair Chorus, accompanied by orchestral music. Baron Von Holtonben, German Ambassador at Washington, then responded to the greetings of Mr. Rubens in behalf of the representatives of the German Emporer. Next on the programme was the address of the day, which was delivered by Carl Schurz.

BLARNEY-STONE AT THE FAIR.—Chicago, June 16.—A part of the famous blarney-stone, which for centuries occupied a place in the walls of historic old Blarney Castle, in Ireland, has arrived at the World's Fair. It was shipped here by Lady Aberdeen and will form one of the attractions of her Irish village. This afternoon it was placed in the walls of the reproduction of Blarney Castle, which forms a part of the Irish village, where it may be kissed by all who have the hardihood to be lowered head down to where it is to temporarily rest. The historic old stone will be formally unveiled by Mayor Carter H. Harrison tomorrow. An elaborate programme has been prepared for the event. Speeches will be made, songs sung, and Miss Sullivan, the Irish harpist brought to this country by Lady Aberdeen, will perform on the harp.

JUMPED OFF BROOKLYN BRIDGE.—New York, June 18.—An unknown man, apparently about twenty-six years old, jumped from the north roadway of the Brooklyn bridge at half-past 7 o'clock to-night and landed on the roof of the shed that covers Pier 27 East river. He was instantly killed. It was just half-past 7 o'clock when Officer Ferdinand Thomas, patrolling the north roadway, 200 feet west of the New York tower, was astonished to see a man walking rapidly toward him from Brooklyn. How he got on the roadway the officer cannot understand. The man suddenly pulled off his hat and coat, and, placing them in the middle of the roadway, ran toward the rail, which at that point is four feet high, and, placing his hands on it, vaulted over, plunged down 87 feet, falling on his left side on the roof of the shed on the pier below. The force of the fall was so great that light boards, of which the roof was made, were broken and splintered and the tin covering them bent and twisted. It is supposed that the man jumped to the place from which he jumped, as it was evidently his intention to fall into the water. If he had calculated rightly and jumped 20 feet farther out toward the middle of the bridge he would have accomplished his purpose. His identity has not been found out.

On Sunday evening week, William Pinkney, colored, convicted of the murder of Mr. Francis Bowie, and who escaped from the Upper Marlboro' jail several weeks ago, was recaptured in a ravine near Upper Marlboro' Md., by Frank W. Jones, Hillery Jackson and Edward Jackson, the last two named are colored men. Pinkney was handed over to the Sheriff who placed him in jail. The reward of $750 offered by the Sheriff and County Commissioners will be divided among the captors.

On Friday week Wm. Smith was struck with a club by Wm. Marmaduke in a quarrel on the banks of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, several miles east of Cumberland, and died from his injuries the next day. Marmaduke is about 28 years old and was arrested on Saturday while on a boat, and is now confined in jail at Cumberland. The murdered man was born at Falling Waters and was about 48 years old. He leaves a wife and four children. Both men were employed on different boats when the tragedy occurred.—Emmitsburg Chronicle.

EIGHT pupils of the Washington County High School were arrested last week, charged with hazing Albert Fuss, of Williamsport. They were given a hearing before Squire Gatis, who adjudged them all guilty, and fined them sums ranging from $1 to $3 and costs. An appeal was taken in each case.

MISS MAGSAM, living near Greencastle, Pa., lost her speech about five years ago. She could not speak a word, neither could you hear her when she would laugh. Recently she was taken sick with typhoid fever, and on Tuesday her speech returned.

THE First National Bank of Adams City, Kansas, one of the oldest and generally believed to be one of the strongest financial institutions in the Southwest, has failed.

THE LIBBY PRISON WAR MUSEUM.—Of the many attractions outside of the World's Fair in Chicago, there are but few in which there is so much interest centered as there is in the Libby Prison War Museum. In 1889 this celebrated prison was removed from Richmond to Chicago and converted into a War Museum. The project was undertaken by a syndicate of the best known business men of the city whose enterprise was conceived in a commercial spirit, but has attained a national reputation. A project such as this was never before heard of. To move a brick and stone building the size of Libby more than a thousand miles, across rivers and mountains, was an enterprise that many of the best known contractors in the War refused to undertake at any price. But the move was made with success. Then the famous old structure was filled with war material that represents the work of a lifetime and the expenditure of half a million dollars. The great collection is conceded to be second to none in the country and includes much of the most valuable material of the greatest civil war the world has ever known has left to posterity. The collection includes thousands and thousands of relics of every description, many of which form important links in the history of the Nation. The old building itself is fraught with interesting memories and the story of the celebrated tunnel escape of Feb. 9, 1864, never fails to interest the visitors. One hundred and nine Union officers made their escape through that tunnel, which formed one of the most thrilling events in the history of the war. 1t

New Oxford Jottings.

New Oxford is booming and business brisk. Mr. Elmer Seibanstine has undertaken a three-story brick house 30x100 feet.

Mr. Jacob Wehler is removing a two-story frame building from Philadelphia street to Berlin Avenue. This appears to be a job not expected. Some five hands have been all week at it, and not yet halfway. Mr. Wehler is to have $225 to put it on the foundation on Berlin Avenue, and has already spent nearly $150.

Dr. H. W. Swartz will erect a fine two-story brick house on the lot from which the old house has been removed.

The Catholic congregation in this place, has under roof a fine brick school-house on the rear of the church lot.

Dr. J. W. Dicks, has completed a two-story frame house on a lot lately purchased, adjoining the Eagle hotel on Carlisle street. He expects to occupy it in about a month.

Alexander Diehl has nearly completed a new building on his lot on Pitt street, near the toll-gate, for storing away corn, grain and for other purposes. We are sorry to say that Mr. Diehl was taken with paralysis on Thursday while assisting in finishing his building. He was unconscious for several hours. He is now able to be up and about, but feeling the effects very sensibly.

Some six or eight property holders on Philadelphia and Carlisle street are having a sewer laid along both streets, with a ten inch tile. T. D. Smith and Dr. Sheetz not on the streets, are making a connection with the large sewer as drain from their cellars on the public square.

A suit was brought before Esquire Cook last week by Henry Menges of Eichelberger's Mill, near town, against John Walters and employees to abate a public nuisance, after notice had been given. A hearing was had on the part of the plaintiff, the defendent agreed to abate the nuisance as far as practicable, causing no damage to the flour mill customers, or any other, each party paying half the cost and information withdrawn by the plaintiff.

PRIEST DROWNED.—Father Charles D. McKenna, assistant rector of St. Ann's Catholic church, on Twelfth street, and son of Hugh McKenna, a wealthy leather merchant, was drowned in the Hudson river off the foot of One Hundred and First street, New York, late Thursday afternoon, while vainly endeavoring to rescue Mrs. Charles Purchell, his cousin, who had lost her balance in trying to join him in a rowboat and fallen overboard within a few feet of the landing. Father McKenna was a strong swimmer, but Mrs. Purchell threw her arms around his neck and impeded his efforts to save her. Three men and a boy stood on the float a few yards from where the priest and his cousin were struggling in the swift ebb tide, but made no effort to help them. One, who gave his name to the police as August Copeland, excuses himself on the ground that he cannot swim. The others sneaked away without saying anything after Father McKenna and Mrs. Purchell sank for the last time. The bodies were not recovered and were probably carried out to sea.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach, the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

College Commencement.

The sixty-first annual Commencement of Gettysburg College opened on Sunday morning with the Baccalaureate sermon, preached by Rev. Dr. W. H. Dunbar, of Lebanon, Pa. His text was from Esther, 4th Chapter and 13th verse, on which he based an able, eloquent and practicable sermon in its application to the weighty responsibilities resting upon those who had attained positions of power whether in State, finance or church, for the faithful performance of their duties. The church was well filled with an appreciative audience. The choir was assisted by Miss Snyder, of Waynesboro, whose fine solos were much enjoyed, both morning and evening.

In the evening Rev. Prof. Jacob Yutzy, of Selinsgrove, Pa., delivered an interesting and detailed discourse before the college Y. M. C. A., taking as a text Romans 1st chapter and 4th verse. Yesterday the first part of the tennis tournament took place. This morning the Board of Trustees met; the exercises of the Senior class will be held this evening. To-morrow morning occurs the Junior oratorical contest for the Reddig prize. In the afternoon field sports, followed by an address before the Alumni by Sterling G. Valentine, Ph. D., of Lebanon. On Thursday ten members of the Senior class will deliver orations, followed by the President's reception on the Campus, in the evening.

Electric Railway.

During the past week work has centered on the line including Baltimore and Chambersburg streets and around the Cemeteries, and the laying of the track is being pushed on Baltimore street. Their effort is to complete this circuit in time for the New York celebration. The power house is also being pushed rapidly and two of the three engines to supply power have arrived.

On Saturday notice was served the Electric Railway Company by the Attorneys of the Gettysburg & Petersburg Turnpike Company to remove, within five days, their tracks and poles in accordance with the proceedings had in court.

The bond has not yet been executed, but we understand it has at last been drawn up and was given to Mr. Hoffer yesterday, who took it to Hummelstown to obtain the signatures, and the assurance is given that within a day or two it will be duly executed and placed in the hands of the proper authorities.

Home Weddings.

On Wednesday at noon, the marriage of Prof. Huber Gray Buehler, of Hotchkiss school, Lakeville, Conn., and Miss Roberta Wolf occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, Seminary Ridge, in the presence of a small company. Rev. A. H. Fichthorn was best man and Miss Ethel Swope maid of honor. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Rev. Dr. E. J. Wolf, assisted by Rev. L. S. Black.

At the same time the residence of Hon. David Wills was the scene of a similar event, his youngest daughter, Miss Emma S., being married to Mr. J. Edmond McCammon, Rev. W. S. VanCleve performing the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and invited guests.

Both brides received many handsome testimonials from their numerous friends, and both couples started on the 2 p. m. train on their respective tours.

On the 14th inst., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Brinkerhoff, in Straban township, by Rev. T. J. Barkley, assisted by Rev. Mr. Biddle, Rev. Ellis E. Burgess, a recent graduate of the Theological Seminary at this place, to Miss Fannie L. Brinkerhoff. Mr. Burgess is pastor of the Lutheran church at Avanmore, Westmoreland county, Pa. The young couple left on the following morning for the scene of their future home, the the kind wishes of many friends accompanying them.

School Teachers Elected.

The School Board of this place organized on Thursday evening by the election of the old officers, President, Calvin Hamilton; Secretary, C. H. Stallsmith; Treasurer, J. Elmer Musselman; Janitor, C. B. Shields. All the old teachers were retained and $5 a month increase of salary granted in each case, Prof. J. D. Hunter getting $80 per month, Miss Emma H. Warren $45, Miss Hattie B. McGrew $40, Miss Lillie Miller $35, Miss Ida E. Sheads $35, Mrs. Mary E. Wible $35, Miss Sadie A. Schriver $35, Miss Dora Fleming $35, Miss Alice Powers $35, Mrs. S. M. Stewart $39. The schools will reopen Sept. 1.

The Cumberland township Board organized on the 6th by electing Wm. Wible President, A. Keckler Secretary and John H. Currens Treasurer. The following teachers were chosen: Belmont, Miss Phœbe Gates; Fairplay, Miss May McIlhenny; Hersh's, Miss Laura Diehl; McCurdy's, John McAllister; Centennial Hall, John Black. Four schools are yet to be filled.

Death of Mr. John Beckman.

Communicated.—Death has deprived us of one of our best citizens. Mr. John Beckman died at his residence in Oxford Township on Friday last, June 9th, after a short illness in the sixty-third year of his age. Mr. Beckman emigrated to this country from Germany over forty years ago. He was a potter by trade and after his marriage he purchased a small tract of land from Mr. Charles Will and commenced business on his own account. Later he added large drain tile works, which he carried on up to the time of his death. By industry and good management he accumulated considerable property and won the respect and confidence of all who know him by his strict integrity in all his dealings. His remains were interred in the Conowago cemetery on Monday morning, his funeral being largely attended. He leaves a wife and one child, a daughter, who is the wife of Mr. John T. Reily, of the Martinsburg Herald. J.

Class Banquet.

Last Friday evening, the class of '97 formerly Sub-Freshmen in Prep. Dept. of Gettysburg College, held their banquet in the Preparatory building. Members of '97, '98 and '99 and the Prep. Faculty attended, all enjoying a very pleasant evening. The speeches and toasts were exceptionally good, especially the History and Class Poem. Thanks are due to the committee in charge for the manner in which they conducted the banquet.

The programme was as follows—Geo. F. Abel, toastmaster. Selection, "My Bonnie lies over the ocean," '97 Quintet, Messrs. White, Fleck, Ott, Gable and Manges, Sr.; "The kindly relations which here existed between the students and Professors during the year," Chas. E. Fleck; Class History, Henry W. Bikle; Some of the "Tricks," Messrs. White, Herr and Fleck; Address, Prof. O. G. Klinger; Toast, "Three cheers for Prof. Klinger," W. J. Arthur; Class Poem, J. E. Gable; Address, Prof. U. S. G. Rupp; Toast, "Three Cheers for Prep. Faculty," H. M. Herr; "The Demosthenian Debating Club, Louis Manges; Address, Prof. C. Huber; "The genius in '97," M. L. Smyser; Prophecy, W. J. Ott; Toast, "The Ladies of the Class of '97," R. N. Stahle; Address, Prof. Drawbaugh; "The difference between girls of '97 and the country girls," P. J. Schriver; "The Prospect for September," A. R. Auckerman; Address, "Our Class," R. Woods, Pres. of '98; Address, "Our Class," P. H. Bikle, of 99; "Farewell to Prep," Geo. F. Abel; Selection, "Good-bye, Schoolmates," '97 Quintet.

After the programme, good-byes, were said and we parted, in set of us to meet next September, when the class will number over 50. S., '97.

Edward Smith was discharged from the county jail under the insolvent laws.

Bond of Charles F. Schultz, Committee of Sarah Wisler, was filed and approved.

Cutting Affray.

On Saturday night great excitement was caused in the vicinity of Seminary Ridge, at the old Lee headquarter building. During the evening John and Charles Waddle, with James McGlaughlin, were in town, and, under the influence of liquor, the latter had a quarrel with the Waddle boys. McGlaughlin went home alone and when the Waddle boys came the altercation was renewed. In the scuffle one of the Waddle boys drew a knife and tried to plunge it into McGlaughlin's body. His left arm received the thrust, the blade cutting a gash about four inches long to the bone, between the elbow and shoulder. He moved back to the rear of the lot where he fell, exhausted from loss of blood. Assistance was called and they carried him into the house. Dr. J. B. Scott rendered the necessary medical aid, and while McGlaughlin is improving, he is still in a precarious condition.

THE excursion to Baltimore on Thursday, under the auspices of the Grand Army band, carried 559 people, over 400 from this place, and netted the band about $85 00.

CHILDREN'S DAY.—These always interesting services were held Sunday evening in the M. E. church, under the direction of the Superintendent, Mr. John Mitten. The exercises consisted of singing, recitations, select readings, etc, with an address by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Keith.

CANNING FACTORY.—Our Canning factory is now in full operation putting up peas. This factory has always had a first-class reputation for its goods and the Directors and their foreman, Mr. James Wise, will spare no effort to sustain their good standing.

The B. F. Schriver & Co. factory at Littlestown, started on Thursday. The buildings, though not quite completed, are being pushed.

BAD FALL.—On Sunday afternoon several boys were in the upper part of Mr. Jacob Sheads' lumber shed, when one of them, Harvey Stoner, son of C. W. Stoner, Esq., fell headforemost, cutting an ugly gash in his forehead, which Dr. Horner dressed.

THE following persons from this county have successfully passed the Senior examinations at the Cumberland Valley State Normal School and will receive their diplomas on Thursday morning, June 29: Misses Eva Boyer and Alice Peters, Messrs. J. A. McAllister, J. H. Hoffman, Wm. Rife, C. E. Slonaker and H. L. March.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—A new schedule went into effect on the Western Maryland Railroad on Sunday. Trains westward at 8 05, 10.20 a. m. and 6.20 p. m.; trains eastward 8.48 a. m., 2.25 and 3 42 p. m An accommodation train arrives at 1.23, leaving at 7.48 p. m., and on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays runs to Pen-Mar, leaving here at 1.25, and returning leaves the park at 6 35 p. m.

The P. R. R. train running between York and Gettysburg was taken off.

MECHANICSBURG'S council has given the Susquehanna and Harrisburg and Mechanicsburg electric railway companies the right to the streets of that place. By the terms of the ordinance recently passed each company is to pay a license of fifty cents for each pole and five dollars for each car run over its lines. The council also compels the companies to keep the streets in good condition; erect the power house in the borough, not to run cars faster than eight miles an hour in the borough; to commence building the road within three months of the passage of the ordinance, and to finish it and operate it within one year from that time, and to give a bond in the sum of $1,000 for the faithful carrying out of the conditions of the ordinance. The companies are given two weeks in which to say whether they will accept the terms of the ordinance or not.

AN exchange has the following:

In addition to the building of an electric railroad from Frederick to Middletown, another project is now being agitated in that section looking to the construction of a similar road from Gettysburg, by way of Emmitsburg, Mechanicstown and Frederick to Washington.

A WORLD'S RECORD BEATEN.—Wilmington, Del., June 15.—In the presence of two hundred people James B. Green to-day drove his pacing stallion, Saladin, one mile in 2.09½ over the half mile track at Wawaset park here, beating the world's pacing or trotting record, over a half mile track. The quarters were made as follows: First quarter, .31½; half mile; 1.03½; three quarters, 1.36½; mile, 2.09½. Saladin's previous record was 2.11½, made at Philadelphia last year. He is a half brother of Stamboul, 2.07½; his sire being Sultan.

New York Day.

The capstones on which will rest the bronze statue of the New York monument have been in place for some days and Mr. Cheney is awaiting it, which from last advices, will be shipped this week, and is confidently expected to be here in ample time for the dedicatory services on the afternoon of July 2nd. As yet no official programme has been issued, but the prominent positions held in this battle by members of the New York Commission, the liberal appropriations of the State Legislature in erecting monuments and making preperations for this general dedication ceremony give promise of an exceptionally interesting occasion. The Governor and his staff, and other New York State and municipal officials will participate as well as a portion of the National Guard and delegations from the surviving organizations of the commands engaged in the battle from that State.

Already several carloads of tents are here, which will in due time be erected on East Cemetery hill for the accommodation of the veterans, and a spacious platform will be erected around the monument for distinguished guests.

In connection with this dedication and the thirtieth anniversary of the battle a number of monuments will be turned over to the Commission which have not yet been dedicated. The leading one of this list will be that of the 44th and 12th, the imposing structure now being completed on Little Round-Top. The 44th was Major General Daniel Butterfield's regiment, and that organization has invited all the veterans of Gen. Butterfield's old third brigade. The exercises will take place on July 3d.

A delegation of the veteran firemen of New York are making arrangements to accompany the 73rd regiment, bringing a band and quartering at the City Hotel. They will participate in the unveiling of the monument.

G. A. R. Encampment.

Assistant Quartermaster General Levering was here last week making arrangements for the Summer Encampment which opens on July 15th. He reports unusual interest on the part of the veterans and that the turnout will be one of the largest. The camp will be arranged in the usual form and be in readiness for the arrival of the guests. Sunday's Phila. Inquirer says:

The feature of the camp will be the unique clubs that are made up in the inner circles of the various posts. These are always interesting to visitors, and to the vets they are a source of endless fun.

Post 371, of Newville, has applied for canvas for 50 members.

The "Owls" of Post 15, of Reading, are rubbing their moon-gazing eyes and preparing to hoot in their usual style. They have sent in an application for a high roost in the canvas city.

Post 58, of Harrisburg will be represented at the encampment by about 100 comrades.

The "Lambs" of Post 51 are having their respective fleeces made as white as snow. One hundred "bleaters," a Kuzzo band of 24 pieces, two pieces of artillery and the post guard of 40 men will be in their outfit. Captain John Taylor will, of course, have full charge of the sheep pen.

Post 94, with a full guard of forty-four men, making its quota an even 100, has applied for its usual quarters.

The fact that Post 8 will turn out in full force gives hope that the "razors will be flying in the air," as in the merry days of old.

The "Night Hawks" of Post 226, of Marietta, will flock to the white field in large numbers and will bring with them their celebrated cannon and other curiosities.

Post 217, of Easton, promises that 150 goats will be on hand to graze on Cemetery Hill. Senior Vice Department Chidsey is one of the chief butters.

An attractive roost has been set aside for the "doves" of Post 61, Williamsport. Chief of Staff Dinan's "coo" will, of course, be on hand.

The "Sun Flowers" of Post 5 have over fifty names on their Gettysburg list. Captain McCormick is the big sun flower, and Comrade Dan McGowen leader of the band.

72ND COMMITTEE.—On Friday evening W. W. Ker, Esq., and Captains John Reed and Sylvestus Burns arrived from Philadelphia for the purpose of careing for the interests of the 72nd Regiment's lot, east of the stone wall, over which the electric railway propose to pass. With their local counsel, J. C. Neely, Esq., and H. C. Picking, Surveyor, they visited the ground Saturday morning, drove the stakes indicating their lines and erected a flag pole in the centre. A contract was given to J. W. Flaharty to furnish granite corner posts and iron railing, thereby inclosing the lot. In the afternoon the committee had a conference with Mr. Hoffer, but no agreement was reached, the gentlemen leaving for Philadelphia in the evening.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID A. RILEY gave a bounteous dinner at their residence, near Greenmount, on Sunday, in honor of Mrs. R.'s parents. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Strasbaugh and family, Mr. and Mrs Harry J. Riley and family, Mrs. Minnie Tipton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Redding and son, Mr. F. M Riley, Mrs. Henry McDonnell, Mrs Nancy Peters and daughter, Mrs Fannie McGlaughlin and son, Messrs. John Riley and Harry Noel. Mr. John Hartzel, son of Jere., was organist. S. L. B.

MCSHERRYSTOWN'S WATER WORKS.—Contracts have been made by the McSherrystown Water Company with Mr. Daniel O'Donnell, of Columbia, for the erection of water works. The source of supply will be a number of free-flowing springs of excellent water, at the western edge of the town, on the home farm of Mr. Vincent O'Boid. Here a pond 40 by 80 feet will be constructed into which will be drained, by terra cotta pipes, the water from all the springs. A thirty-horse power boiler and a steam pump to force 200 gallons of water a minute, will be erected in a suitable building. The water will be forced through a six-inch main out North street to the sand hill, at the eastern end of the town, where a stand-pipe sixteen feet in diameter and seventy feet high will be erected. The stand-pipe will hold 125,000 gallons of water and will be made of heavy iron plates. Through Main street, which is parallel with North street, a four-inch main will be extended.

Twenty-four fire plugs will furnish a supply of water for extinguishing fires. In case of a conflagration, the steam pump at the water works will be utilized to increase the pressure secured by the fall from the stand-pipe and the hill on which it is located. We believe that when this plant is finished McSherrystown will have a protection against fires more efficient and valuable than that of many much larger towns.—Hanover Herald.

THE route of the Hanover and McSherrystown street railway has been changed and the line over Railroad, Chestnut, Frederick and High streets has been abandoned. Instead the road will run from the cemetery, through Baltimore and Carlisle streets to McSherrystown Avenue, out that avenue to High street, and thence over Ehrehart and Hostetter's land by the original route. Passengers will be transferred at the Carmel Factory crossing, until the injunction case before the court is finally decided.

HAVING abandoned the proposed trip of the national guard to Chicago, Adjutant-General Greenland has decided, after consultation with Governor Pattison and Major-General Snowden, to have regimental encampments this summer. This was the order one year ago, which the riot at Homestead caused to be revoked. The adjutant-general wired the brigade and regimental commanders asking their preference with respect to brigade or regimental camps, and the responses were almost unanimously in favor of the latter. General Greenland has prepared the formal order, which has been approved by the governor.

THE TRIAL OF LIZZIE BORDEN.—The trial of Miss Lizzie Borden, in New Bedford, Mass., for the murder of her father and stepmother is undoubtedly the most interesting case of recent years. The crime chargrd was one of inhuman atrocity. No sufficient motive for its commission has been shown in any direction. The trial has attracted the attention of the entire country.

The Hamiltonban School Board organized by electing Wm. Hyser, Prest., E B. Swope, Sec. and C. Grant Musselman, Treasurer. The question of Teachers' salaries was postponed until the next meeting. Would it not be a wise policy for the School Boards of Adams County to imitate the example of some of the counties, who are taking our most competent teachers, and advance the salary or length of term, or both, as we hope our worthy Superintendent is advancing the grade for teachers. It would certainly be wise to keep up the best of schools, and employ adequate teachers at living rates, and thereby lessen the taxes we pay to keep up our charitable, punitive and reformatory institutions. SERIOUS SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—Carlisle, June 18 —A serious shooting accident that will probably prove fatal occurred at Churchtown, five miles east of Carlisle, last night. Frank B. Hosler, aged 22 years, while intoxicated, was wrestling with another young man. He drew a revolver and shot to the side to frighten his antagonist. Samuel Eckhart, an aged citizen, was sitting on the sidewalk, and the bullet struck him in the abdomen, passing through his body. Hosler was promptly arrested, and is now in jail to await the result of the man's injuries. He admits the shooting, and claims it was accidental. Eckhart is past 60 years, and the physicians say he will die.

—Mr. Eckhart is dead.

JOHN A. H. BARNITZ for many years the teller of the Farmers' bank in Carlisle, committed suicide in Texas, where he had gone for the benefit of his health. Recipes.

Strawberry Pie.—Line a deep pie-plate with rich paste and bake a delicate brown. Have ready enough strawberries to fill the shell; when it is nearly baked add sugar to the fruit and make a meringue of whites of 2 eggs and 2 tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Quickly fill the shell with berries, spread the meringue roughly over the top, return to the oven and brown slightly. Serve cold.

Sago Pudding.—Put a pint of milk in the double boiler and on the fire; mix three tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with a gill of milk and one-third of a teaspoonful of salt; stir this into the milk when it boils; beat the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth, and then gradually beat into them half a cupful of powdered sugar and one teaspoonful of vanilla; add this to the cooking mixture and beat vigorously for one minute. Rinse a mould in cold water, and pouring into it, set away to cool. At serving time turn out on a flat dish and serve with chocolate sauce.

Corn Fritters.—Two eggs, well beaten, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a small quantity of salt and pepper and the contents of a can of corn. Drop large spoonfuls of the batter into very hot lard, and fry a light brown.

Brown Bread.—Three cups of flour, three cups of yellow cornmeal, three cups of sweet milk, one cup of molasses, one tablespoonful of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder. Bake three hours in a moderate oven. This is excellent.

Rhubarb Tart.—Skin the stalks with care, cut into small pieces, put into a saucepan, with very little water, and stew, slowly until soft. Sweeten while hot, but do not cook the sugar with the fruit, as it injures the flavor of the rhubarb. Have ready some freshly baked shells. Fill up with the fruit and serve cold.

Lobster Salad.—One can of lobster chopped fine, 12 hard-boiled eggs chopped fine, one cup of vinegar, one tablespoonful of mustard, one tablespoonful of pepper, piece of butter size of an egg, half cup sweet cream, two raw eggs beaten with the ingredients. Heat until boiling, and pour on the eggs and lobsters, garnish with parsley leaves and eggs cut in thin slices.

Irish Potato Pie.—One pound of mashed potatoes, run through a colander; two cups of white sugar; six eggs—whites and yolks beaten separately—one lemon, squeezed into the potatoes while hot; one cup of milk, one teaspoonful of nutmeg and the same quantity of ground mace; mix all together. Line the pie plates with a good paste, and bake without a top crust. It is to be eaten cold.

Orange Ice Cream.—To make an orange ice cream grate the peel of three Valencia oranges into a pint of boiling milk. Be careful to use only the yellow peel, none of the bitter white peel that lies underneath. Add the juice of the oranges, mixed with a cup of sugar and the yolks of six eggs. Stir the boiling milk gradually into the eggs. It must not curdle. Add a pint of perfectly fresh cream, and if the mixture is not a good yellow a drop or two of the yellow French coloring liquid used by confectioners and caterers. These vegetable colorings are perfectly safe, and often add considerably to the appearance of the dish. Freeze the ice cream as usual, and dish it out in little round forms, about the size of small oranges.

Green Pea Soup.—Four pounds of beef cut into small pieces, half peck of green peas, one gallon of water, half a cup of rice flour, a small quantity of chopped parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Boil the empty pods of the peas in the water one hour, then strain and put the beef into this pea water, and boil steady for one hour and a half. After boiling one hour add the shelled peas, and 20 minutes later add the rice flour with salt, pepper and parsley. After adding these ingredients stir frequently to prevent scorching. Strain into a hot tureen and serve immediately.

Cottage Pudding.—Beat the yolk of one egg light, add to it gradually one cup of granulated sugar, beating all the while, one-half of a cup of milk, one and one-half cups of flour, and beat until light and smooth. Beat the white of the egg to a stiff, dry froth, and stir it gently into the batter with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Put in a greased baking dish and bake 25 minutes in a slow oven.

Potato Puffs.—Prepare the potatoes as you would for mashed potatoes. While hot shape into balls about the size of an egg. Have a tin sheet well buttered and place the potato balls on it. As soon as done brush over with beaten eggs, then place in oven and brown. When done slip a knife under them and slide them upon a hot dish. Garnish with parsley and serve immediately.

Cream Caramels.—Boil three cupfuls of sugar, one-half cup of butter, one cupful of milk and one square of chocolate—melting the chocolate before adding—for 10 minutes. Beat until cool, add one tablespoonful of vanilla; pour into buttered tins and cut into squares. This is a favorite Boston recipe, and has only to be tried to made it very popular.

Baked Bananas.—Strip a narrow piece lengthwise from one edge of the bananas and bake one-half hour in a moderate oven. As soon as they are taken from oven, pour a very little lemon juice over them, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve.

Dairy Tests at Cornell.

There is such a wide difference in the characteristics of dairy cows that to arrive at correct knowledge of what a cow should perform in a year is very difficult, as the kinds of food, its cost, the pasture, climate, breed and management effect the result with each individual. Some experiments recently made at Cornell University, however, are too valuable to be overlooked, as they throw light on the cost and production, which is of advantage to all interested.

Twenty cows, mostly grades, but nearly pure bred, of several breeds, were fed both winter and summer. The average cost of the food consumed was $45.25 for one year; the highest for any one cow being $55.38, and the lowest $38.24. The pasture was charged to each cow at 30 cent per week. During the time the cows were at pasture the grain ration was made up of three parts bran and one part cottonseed. During the winter each cow received a daily ration of 15 pounds hay, from 50 to 55 pounds ensilage, 10 pounds roots, and 8 pounds grain, the smaller cows receiving 5 pounds less of hay and 10 pounds less of ensilage; the hay being valued at $8 per ton, the ensilage at $1.75 per ton, roots at $2 per ton, and bran at $18 per ton. Oats, cottonseed meal, cornmeal, cornstalks and cut grass were also given.

Two of the cows were twin sisters, yet they differed greatly, and no two cows yielded the same. It was demonstrated, however, that with a fairly good herd, carefully kept and fed, milk can be produced at 55 cents per 100 pounds (about 50 quarts), and butter fat for 16 cents per pound, for the cost of food consumed. The larger cows consumed less pounds of dry matter per 1,000 pounds live weight per day than did the smaller animals, and it was ascertained that for the production of milk and fat no food was as cheap and good as pasture grass.

The best yields of fat were obtained from cows that gave at least a large flow of milk, and cows consuming the most food produced both milk and fat at the lowest rate. The average yield of milk was 7,240 pound, the largest being 11,165 pounds and the lowest 2,829.75 pounds. The largest yield of fat in the milk was 439 pounds, the average being 285.62 pounds. The cow giving the largest yield of milk (a grade Holstein) was second in butter fat (418 pounds), and the cow giving the largest amount of butter fat was second in yield of milk (10,754 pounds). If the butter fat had been made into butter the 285.62 pounds average of fat would have given 357 pound of butter per cow. A portion of the fat is also lost in the skim milk and buttermilk. While the test mentioned was with twenty animals, yet the great difference existing in cows, even of the same breed, might cause results not so satisfactory with another lot of twenty.

The Geary Law Inoperative.

It may be taken as a favor of fortune that the statesmen who framed the Geary law and put it through Congress forgot to attach to it an appropriation of money, making its execution possible. They have thus relieved the President of the duty of doing what he would have had to do had the necessary means been given him. The incarceration and deportation of a hundred thousand Chinese would require the expenditure of millions, while not a dollar has been appropriated for the purpose, and as the Constitution does not permit the President to draw money from the Treasury "but in consequence of appropriations made by law," he can use no public funds for the enforcement of the Geary law, for which no appropriation has been made. The demagogues may fume and threaten, but they cannot compel the President to violate a fundamental law of our constitutional government for the purpose of executing a legislative act the execution of which was not provided for. Thus we may at least escape the disgrace of seeing practically consummated by executive act, in the name of the American people, that which the American people are heartily ashamed of, for it is hardly to be assumed that the new Congress will leave the Geary law on the statute-book, or even vote money for its enforcement in the face of the public sentiment which in the mean time has made itself heard against it, and which, when aroused, speaks in more powerful tones to the politicians in Congress than the orators of the sand lots in San Francisco.—Harper's Weekly.

She Gave Him The Grip.

At the theater one night two gentlemen sat in the front row, next to the orchestra. Directly behind them sat a gentleman and his wife. A few moments before the curtain went up one of the gentlemen in the front row put his arm on the back of his companion's seat.

While talking to his friend he felt a slight pinch on the arm. On looking around he saw that the lady behind him had turned to look up to the balcony, and in so doing had placed her hand on his arm. Realizing that she had done so unconsciously, he did not move his arm, says the Rochester Union-Advertiser.

Soon, however, he felt a hard pinch. Thinking that the best way to call the lady's attention to what she was doing would be to ask if anything was wanted, the gentleman turned and asked:

"What is it, madam?"

"Sir?" said the lady, and immediately the husband blazed up.

"What do you mean by speaking to my wife?" he demanded.

"Don't mean anything," was the reply, "but I would like to know what your wife means by pinching my arm?"

Then both men looked at the lady's hand, which still rested on the arm. Both smiled, became a little nervous and apologized. During the rest of the performance the lady kept her hand in her muff.

Pa's Picture.

"Are you the man that painted that ere picture of Moses in the bulrushes?" asked a countryman of an artist who had recently startled the town with an exhibition of oil paintings.

"Yes," replied the artist.

"All right; then I want you to paint my father."

"Certainly, if he gives me a few sittings."

"Can't do it; he's dead."

"Let me have a photograph of him."

"Can't do that neither. He never had his picture taken."

"I'm afraid, then, I must decline."

"Decline! What for? Haven't you painted Moses? You didn't have a photograph of him, did you? No? I thought not. Well, my father hain't been dead nearly as long as Moses. If you can paint Moses you ought to know enough to paint my father."

Appreciating the situation, the artist went to work and evolved such a portrait as he thought might satisfy so original a son. "Bully!" exclaimed this art patron on seeing the completed painting. "That almost knocks the stuffin' out of Moses; but, I say, how he has changed!"

BREAKING IT GENTLY.—"Give me your candid judgement on these lines," said the young man of literary aspirations. "Do they convey the idea of poetry at all?"

"Yes, sir," replied the editor, looking them over, "they do. There is something in every line that conveys the idea. Every line," continued the kind-hearted man, letting him down as gently as he could, "begins with a capital letter."

READ.—SPEAR HEAD possesses more qualities of intrinsic value than any other plug tobacco produced. It is the sweetest, the toothiest, the richest. SPEAR HEAD is absolutely, positively and distinctively different in flavor from any other plug tobacco. A trial will convince the most skeptical of this fact. It is the largest seller of any similar shape and style on earth, which proves that it has caught the popular taste and pleases the people. Try it, and participate in the contest for prizes. See that a TIN TAG is on every 10 cent piece of SPEAR HEAD you buy. Send in the tags, no matter how small the quantity. Very sincerely,

THE P. J. SORG COMPANY, MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

A list of the people obtaining these prizes in this county will be published in this paper immediately after February 1st, 1894.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
